Wow what a night! The Anything Goes Talent show successfully showcased the talents of students at Galen to an almost full house at the WPAC last Wednesday night. The 25 acts were judged by a panel of volunteers with extensive knowledge of the performing arts including Galen teacher/actor/musician, Matt Rispin, ex student and graduate of the Australian Conservatoire of Dance, Ash-Leigh Cunningham, and music teacher at Wangaratta West Primary School, Georgina Wills. Hosted by Mindi Suter, Michael Kalkandis and Robert Speziale 3 charismatic MC's from our Year 12 cohort, the night was well received by the audience and deemed to be highly entertaining. Special guest appearances by Dame Edna Everidge (Year 11 student Jesse Hempel) and Jeffrey Cabalar, an ex Galen student, added to the atmosphere and entertainment of the evening. Some comments made about the evening were:

“Outstanding talent, brilliant night, well organised, went off with a bang!” Shaun Mason, Deputy Principal Teaching and Learning

“Really well organised, it flowed really well and the MC’s did a great job of linking all the acts together” Aaron Taylor Year 11 student.

“There was a lot of talent and it was really fun to watch” Rebecca Lewis Yr 7 student.

All participants and student helpers were outstanding. The co-operation and support on the night was wonderful to see. The award winners for the Anything Goes Talent Show were Overall winner: Earvyn Daviniagracia for his self composed piano solo titled ‘Impromptu in D minor’.

Encouragement awards:
- Jai Crispin for his self composed song ‘Different Worlds’

Dear Parents and Guardians,

The first semester is racing towards its finish. In the past week, we have had Year 10 & 11 exams, and teachers are well under way in their report writing. Year 10s have their work experience this week, and the Year 12 VCE students and those Year 11s undertaking a Year 12 subject sit the General Achievement Test (GAT) this week.

2015 Year 7 interviews
Meanwhile, our interviews for next year’s Year 7 applicants enter their third week. We have over 200 applicants and our aim is to have all interviews completed before the end of this term. There is a team consisting of Lauren Lee (Junior School Director), Paul Carson (Year 7 Co-ordinator), Patrick Arcuri (DP Staff & Students), Gerard Sullivan (DP Catholic Identity), Shaun Mason (DP Learning & Teaching) and myself who are leading the interviews.

The interviews provide a perfect opportunity for us to ask both the prospective students and their parents why they want to come to Galen. The most common responses from both groups have included the range of opportunities at Galen, the Christian values we live by, the care of the staff for the students, frequent direct communication from staff and the fact that if there are issues with any of the students they are dealt with quickly and effectively.

Anything Goes – Galen Talent Quest
The second annual Galen Talent Quest, “Anything Goes”, was a roaring success! There were over 20 acts on the night and every one of them was exceptional. I made the comment after last year’s event that there was an amazing depth of talent amongst the Galen students: the same depth of talent was on display again this year.

There is such a supportive culture amongst our students for each other whenever they perform. When this is coupled with both the natural talent of the students and the dedication of the performing arts staff to go the extra mile in nurturing that talent, the results are that we have high quality events such as the musical productions and the Talent Quest.

Well done to all students performers across the six year levels for providing a highly entertaining evening. And congratulations to staff members Helen Faithfull and Kirsty Woods for masterminding the concept and to their wonderful support staff who never fail to deliver.

New staff members
We welcome two new staff to Galen over coming weeks. Jill Wales will start as classroom aide in the Special Education centre on June 10, and Jenni Hopkins will join the Galen staff from the start of second semester. We welcome both women to the Galen staff and look forward to benefiting from their experience and skill.

Best wishes,
Bernard Neal
Principal

Congratulations to the Senior VCAL students on organising a very successful Disco for the Grade 5/6 students from our CREW primary schools, held in the Galen Auditorium. The students organised and ran a very successful event raising $1000 dollars in the process. The students organised a number of activities and competitions as part of the event, providing a fantastic evening for all those participating. Special acknowledgment must be extended to VCAL staff Mrs Staley and Ms Smith, for all their efforts in guiding and providing advice and direction for the students ensuring that all details had been attended to, enabling the students to demonstrate their skills and ability in organising a complex event. A special thank you must be extended to ex-student, Billy Sullivan for volunteering his services as a DJ for the event, a very talented young man. It was a fantastic evening and well done to the VCAL students.

From time to time we all experience stress. With exams and assessments imminent for many of our students it can be a good time to gain further information to assist in the management of stress, and closely linked anxiety and depression.

Stressors can include anything in our environment that leads to feelings of stress, the state of arousal when we perceive that the situation is beyond our resources to cope. Although stress is a normal reaction it can sometimes become overwhelming and can start to resemble feelings of anxiety and depression. At these times it can be necessary to seek further support.

The Wellbeing link on the homepage of the Galen website has many suggestions about several topics for parents and students. The most recent link directs parents to a beyondblue resource that provides information about signs, symptoms and resources to help in understanding anxiety and depression. To access this excellent resource, simply go to: http://parentsguide.beyondblue.org.au/#folio=1

As with the many parent/student info sheets available on the Galen website, the link is easy to navigate and informative, providing a great starting point for parents and students for a range of different matters. Further support and information is available from the wellbeing team.

On Monday the 26th of May classes 8.3, 8.4, 8.5 and 8.6 attended the Year 8 Anglesea camp. Anglesea is around two hours away from Melbourne, heading South West. The bus trip took five hours from Wangaratta to Anglesea. My favorite activity was definitely surfing. Because I love the salt water and going to the beach. It was a great experience and an amazing opportunity. Surfing was challenging but it was so much fun. After I surfed I felt as if I have achieved a goal. Overall I really liked the camp, it was a great experience.

On the 30th May, 2014, around twenty students from years 7-9 from Galen Catholic College participated in the annual winter sleep out. At the beginning of the night, everyone set up their ‘beds’ in the school stadium. Our ‘beds’ were gym mats, sleeping bags and boxes. The purpose of the night was to promote awareness about homelessness and to be in solidarity with the homeless. We then played some games to get to know everyone that was participating better. We had soup for tea that would have been like the soup that the Soup Van would serve. Bill Daunt from the St. Vincent de Paul Society came and spoke to us about homelessness. It was a very informative and worthwhile talk and we thank Bill sincerely for giving up his time to come and talk to us. We then played ‘The Poverty Game’ which demonstrates to the players where different life situations can result in social inequality and poverty. Following this, we watched a movie about homelessness and then went to sleep. The following morning, we, packed up and left. After the winter sleep out I believe everyone had a better insight into what it would be like for someone that was homeless and living on the streets and how tough their life would be. The winter sleep out was a very worth while experience and I would encourage lots more people to participate next year.

Italian for Beginners

To continue my previous article about Rome, in which I spoke about places I recommend you to visit, now I want to talk about a few Italian expressions you could need to know visiting Italy. First of all… greetings! When you enter a shop or restaurant, it’s nice to say hello, and it’s simple to do: “Buongiorno” (Good morning) and “Buonasera” (Good evening) when you meet someone; “Buona giornata” (Have a good day) and “Buona serata” (Have a good evening) and “Arrivederci” (Goodbye) when you leave someone; “Ciao” (Hello/Bye) is for any time, but informal.

Second… ordering food/drinks. You are in a restaurant and you didn’t book, so when you enter you should say “Buongiorno/Buonasera, un tavolo per due, per favore” (Good morning/Good evening, a table for two, please); when the waiter asks you what do you like to order, you should answer “Prendo un piatto di spaghetti e un bicchiere di vino rosso, grazie.” (I’ll have spaghetti and a glass of red wine, thanks); if you need to use the toilet “Mi scusi, dov’è il bagno?” (Excuse me, where’s the toilet?); when you want to ask the check “Mi scusi, il conto per favore” (Excuse me, the check, please).

Third… asking information into a shop: “Mi scusi, quanto costa questo?” (Excuse me, how much is this?) or also “Mi scusi, posso vedere un oggetto in vetrina?” (Excuse me, can I see an object from the window?)

Last… asking directions. If you get lost, or if you want to reach a place, but don’t know how, just stop people and ask help. “Mi scusi, dove si trova il Colosseo?” (Excuse me, where is the Colosseum?) if you think the place is near, or “Mi scusi, come posso arrivare al Colosseo?” (Excuse me, how can I reach the Colosseum?) or “Mi scusi, cosa posso prendere per arrivare al Colosseo?” (Excuse me, what can I get to reach…?). I hope this could be interesting and useful for you. Written by Michela Screpante

Year 9 Night of the Notables

On Thursday the 29th of May the Year 9 Discovery students took part in ‘The Australian Night of the Notables’. The students completed a research project and investigated the life of an Australian notable. This project culminated in a presentation evening for parents and families, where each student spoke about their notable in the first person. The students performed wonderfully on the night and had put a great deal of time and effort into their costumes, visual and oral presentations.

The parents were given the opportunity to vote for the best presentations on the night and the winners were:

Best Dramatic Performance
Lucy Lee as Dame Edna Everage/Barry Humphries

Best Visual Display
Kurt Jones as RM Williams

Best Costume
Lucy Lee as Dame Edna Everage/Barry Humphries

The Discovery teachers would like to congratulate all of the students on their fine performances on the night.

Year 11 exams have begun smoothly with students sitting their Systems, Studio Art and General Maths Tertiary Exams in the first session this morning.

Reminder: Year 11 students who wish to change subjects for semester 2 need to discuss this with their parents/guardians and teachers, fill out a form, ensure that it is signed and submit it to Mr. Grogan by June 10. Students wishing to transfer to VCAL must meet with Mr. Holligan to discuss the requirements of this option.

Students who are running late for an exam including the GAT or who are unable to make it to an exam need to communicate with Mrs. O’Dwyer, Mr. Gary Watson or Mr. Grogan. Please note VCAL classes and associated work placements will operate as normal.

Semester 2 officially commences June 17:
Year 12 VCE students, this is an opportunity to consolidate your Unit 3 achievements with a strong Unit 4 effort in readiness for the end of year exams. VCAL students, continue your persistence and finish the year feeling proud of your application.

This is also a chance for Year 11 students to make a fresh start with Unit 2 subjects and with their VCAL programs. You are encouraged to reflect on your performance in semester 1, learn from this experience and commit to a consistent approach for semester 2 as a basis for Year 12.

Year 10 and 11 Science students discover neural pathways

A small group of Year 10 and 11 Science students were given the opportunity to visit the Gene Technology Access Centre in Melbourne to take part in their Making Connections program. The day focused on illuminating the neural pathways affecting our behaviour and health. Students were given a tour of The Florey Institute of Neuroscience and Mental Health Brain Centre; and taken through two laboratory sessions focused on Motor Neuron Disease and the pathways to treating addiction. It provided students with an insight into real world science and the opportunities that exist with tertiary studies.

Student Leadership Conference

On Monday 26th May, 14 student leaders from the Junior, Middle and Senior school attended a regional conference at Wangaratta High School. The conference was attended by other student leaders from schools around the area including, Yarrawonga Secondary, Wangaratta High, Shepparton High, Wodonga Secondary College, Alexandra College and Bright Secondary School.

The day was based around the fact that as student’s representing the school we can do important and valuable things to benefit ourselves as well as our classmates, friends and teachers.

The day was run by Kate from the Vic SRC and involved a number of actives directed towards improving our leadership skills in schools. We brainstormed different ideas for projects that we will begin working on to improve our school and the student voice within it.

We learnt about the different methods we could use in our leadership roles and spoke with other student leaders about their aspirations and what they have achieved so far. We gathered many different fundraising ideas and ways to plan and organize our actions. We learnt about ‘the 4 E’s,’ 4 different ways to approach our SRC projects; engineering, enforcement, encouragement and education.

We were invited to participate in VicSRC’s ‘congress,’ a camp for student leaders to represent our school, consult with other students from across the state, promote and represent student voice at a higher level and develop our public speaking and presenting skills.

From hands on activities to very meaningful and deep group discussions, everyone had something new to take away from the experience. It was a very productive day, and definitely benefited the schools representative group. The day was very successful and everyone who attended will be taking fresh, new ideas back to their mini schools. We would like to thank Mr. Burt for organizing the day for us.

Giving students skills to become lifelong learners

Internationally renowned academic, Dr Carol Gordon, from New York, was recently a guest speaker at Galen College on behalf of School Library Association of Victoria (SLAV) for a regional PD workshop. Teaching and library staff from government and Catholic school’s travelled from Melbourne, numerous towns within the North West & East of Victoria and from Indonesia were in attendance.

With digital devices now a major part of the contemporary classroom, Dr Carol Gordon discussed and shared her concepts and research on how educators can assist students to learn, process knowledge and go beyond using Internet search engines as a research tool. Dr Gordon believes in giving students skills to become life long learners beyond their school years and into their working lives. Attendees were equipped with a process that Dr Gordon has developed to guide teachers in how to effectively assist students to organise, analyse and process information in their learning.

Galen teacher Mrs Jenny Bromley spoke highly of the professional development session. “It is very easy to feel that students see less value in information now, due to the fact that so much of it is digitally accessible and of such varied degrees of substance. As educators, we can guide students towards reliable sources and link their prior knowledge with the task at hand. In addition to delivering information to students, we can also provide opportunities for students to discover how they learn best, to enable richer learning experiences.”

The Parents’ Association is still looking for a new President. If you’d like to be directly involved with what’s going on at Galen, we’d love to have you on-board.

Parents’ Association meets twice a Term, the 2nd Tuesday of each Term and the 2nd last Tuesday of each Term. It’s very rewarding being able to have a say on where Parents’ Association money is spent throughout the school. This year we will be looking at providing some shade shelters for the Year 9s...

But we can only do this with your assistance.

We would love to see you there!
